Conference Summary

The Freedom of Information and Privacy Association (FIPA) is pleased to present our 10th conference on Privacy and related issues on November 24-25, 2008. This year's conference is focused on the relationship between privacy, trust and identity theft. We have long considered identity fraud to be one of the most visible and serious types of privacy breach. It is a problem that is afflicting more people every day and is suppressing the growth of personal communication and commerce.

Conference Speakers

The Privacy and Identity Theft Conference 2008 has a very exciting line-up of speakers, including keynote addresses from:

- * Privacy Commissioner for Canada - Jennifer Stoddart,
- * Privacy Commissioner for BC - Mr David Loukidelis,
- * Brendon Lynch, Senior Privacy Strategist - Microsoft

As well as the following speakers and panelists:
