

FOI Workshop

Strategic Use of Freedom of Information laws for Journalists, Researchers and Public Interest Advocates

Would you like to learn how to use the Freedom of Information Act – or use it better?

Have you ever filed an FOI request and been stymied by bureaucratic obstacles, outrageous fee estimates, or blanked-out documents?

Learn how some of BC's foremost experts use the FOI Act. Join an award-winning investigative journalist, an experienced environmental activist, and the director of BC's top FOI watchdog group for a workshop featuring practical tips on how to use BC's FOI Act to get the information you want.

Presenters

Curt Petrovich, National Reporter, CBC

Gwen Barlee, Policy Director, the Wilderness Committee

Vincent Gogolek, Executive Director, BC Freedom of Information and Privacy Association

DATE: Thursday September 29, 7:00 pm – 9:30 pm

LOCATION: People's Law School, 900 Howe Street (Entrance on Smithe Street between Granville and Howe)

Registration is free, but pre-registration is required!

Email fipa@vcn.bc.ca or call 604-739-9788

Presented by BC Freedom of Information and Privacy Association

Web: <http://www.fipa.bc.ca>

Email fipa@vcn.bc.ca

Ph: 604-739-9788

